

Filter Surveillance and Optimization

ONLINE WORKSHOP (TWO MORNINGS)

C.E.U. 0.6

LED BY: TBD

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

The workshop outlines: filtration theory, filter media, backwash management, filter maintenance and diagnostic techniques as well as operational problems and maintenance solutions. It also provides an introduction to filters, their purpose, construction, operational problems, corrective measures, improvements and repairs. Training will give the operators the required understanding and awareness to effectively operate and maintain their filters. They will be presented with material relevant to effectively operate the filters, and with explanation and examples of optimization and surveillance methods useful in operation and maintenance of filters.

This workshop includes two consecutive mornings of instruction, 9:00 am to 12:30 pm each day, classroom material, and Record of Completion.

PREREQUISITES

None.
